

Money

I would need one billion dollars to be rich. I would buy ten lowriders, five bikes and food from Costco. I would also buy a big screen plasma TV. I would buy my mom a new car. I would also buy her a new house and pay her bills for as many years as possible. I would buy myself a house.

Ten lowriders would cost $1,000,000. Five bikes would cost $150,000. $300 would be needed for food. The TV would set me back $75,000. The bills would be $3,000, a house $300,000. To improve the house, it would be $50,000. My house would cost $1,000,000 and to improve it, I would need $200,000.

Story and photos by Matthew Magee.

By the time this kid is 18, the mother will have spent $165,000.

It costs $1133 to feed a bear for a year.

